A BRILLIANT RECEPTION.

Arrival in New York City of Princess Kaiulani.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

A Grand Reception.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The reception tendered to-night by Vice-President, and Mrs. Morton to Vice-President-elect, and Mrs. Stevenson at their residence marked another division by Morton from the traditions surrounding his position. It is an unprecedented thing for an outgoing Vice-President to bestow any recognition, official or social, upon his successor, but when cards were issued giving notification of the Vice-President's intention to honor his successor it was felt to be a gracious and proper courtesy.

Morton served in the House with Stevenson, and ever since there has existed between them a sincere mutual esteem. Anticipation of the event Morton's elegant mansion was decorated with palms, ferns, foliage plants and cut flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Morton received their guests in the doorway separating the parlor from the corridor. At their side stood Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson, to whom the passing盛 was introduced in turn by the host. It was a distinguished and representative gathering that greeted the new official and wife. The members of the Senate were present almost en masse, together with the members of the Cabinet, assistant secretaries of departments, heads of bureaus, the New York and Illinois delegations in the House of Representatives, Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States and of the District of Columbia and Court of Claims, the diplomatic corps in all their brilliancy and insignia of their several orders and honors, heads of the army and navy and a good sprinkling of subordinate officers. In addition to these official guests Vice-President and Mrs. Morton presented to Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson a large number of their personal friends.

There Was no Pus Sac

Dr. Keeney, who is attending John W. Mackay, denies the report that a pus sac has formed in the wound in Mr. Mackay's back. The physician states that the wound was healing too fast from the surface, and it was deemed advisable to keep it open so that there will be an outlet in case a pus sac does form.

Snow Blockade Raised.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 1.—The snow blockade was practically raised and trains arrived on the roads to-day for the first time in two days. All were on time or nearly so. In this city and Minneapolis street cars were running regularly yesterday afternoon and have not since been troubled.

No New Trial.

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 1.—Judge Sloane, in the Criminal Court this morning, overruled the motion for a new trial in the case of Hugh F. Dempsey and Robert B. Atty, charged with per-sonating Homestead non-union workers. They were remanded until Saturday when they will be sentenced.

His Last Public Reception.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—President Harrison held his last informal public reception at the White House this afternoon. It is estimated that 1,500 people paid their respects to the President and half that number failed to get into the East room before the re-noon ended.

Alison made an explanation of the report, and stated in relation to the Sherman amendment that he would, in order to test the sense of the Senate upon it, move to reude from it.

Sherman explained and advocated the amendment. He digressed in order to pay a compliment to Carlisle, saying he knew no man in the United States better fitted to hold the office of Secretary of the Treasury. Sherman's speech was replied to by Stewart, Wilcox, Teller and Gorman.

A vote was taken and the Senate without division reeded from the Sherman amendment.

After the conference report was agreed to in the Senate was suspended, and, after paying a fitting tribute to the memory of the late Senator Gibson of Louisiana, the Senate adjourned.

The conference report on the D strict of Columbia Appropriation bill was agreed to. Stump moved to suspend the rules and pass the Chandler Senate bill to facilitate the enforcement of the immigration and contract labor laws, but there was opposition to the motion by Crain, and the House adjourned.

Arrival of Princess Kaiulani.

NEW YORK, March 1.—Princess Kaiulani, one of the deposed Queen Liliuokalani of Hawaii, arrived to-day on the steamer Tu-tu-tu. With her were Theophilus Davies and Mrs. Davies, the English guardian of the Princess. Messrs. Davies and Miss Warren, companions of the Princess, E. C. McFarlane, ex-Minister of Finance to the deposed Queen Liliuokalani, and Dr. Mott Smith the present Hawaiian Minister to this country, went down the bay on the revenue cutter Chandler to meet the young Princess. They boarded the ship immediately after she left the health officers' boarding station.There was quite an army of curiously seekers on the pier to get a glimpse at the Princess. A suite of rooms had been engaged for the party at the Bravo House and they were driven there immediately after coming off the steamer.

Recognizes the Republican House

TOPEKA, Kans., March 1.—The Populist Senate recognized the Republican House to-day by sending it various bills.

The Air Line Road Scheme Abandoned, SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—The Great Salt Lake railroad project has been abandoned. The company was organized some months ago to build a competing railroad. Capitalists of San Francisco were interested in the scheme, which was to build a road from San Francisco to Nevada, to connect with a line to be built to Salt Lake City, thus connecting with the transcontinental road. About $50,000 were expended for surveys.

The reason for the abandonment of the project was the opposition of the Merchants' Traffic Association to the passage of the bill in the legislature allowing the consolidation of California roads with the roads in another State.

The Traffic Association claims that such a law would allow the Southern Pacific Company, which it was fighting to consolidate its local lines with those it had in Arizona and elsewhere, thus taking its local lines out of the State's control.

The Traffic Association refused to recede from its position, and so the capitalists interested in the proposed road gave up the scheme.

No Need of an Objection.

WASHINGTON, March 1.—The Secretary of the Interior to-day received the following telegram from the President-elect:

"LAKEWOOD, N. J., March 1, 1893.—To THE SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR.—I am strongly opposed to the use of the pension building for a Sunday concert on the fifth instant, and I object to regarding such a thing as a feature of the inauguration."—GROVER CLEVELAND."

Secretary Noble immediately sent the following reply to Mr. Cleveland:

"Your telegram received. Order has been issued already forbidding the use of the pension building on Sunday and I am gratified that this action is in accordance with your wishes."

"JOHN NOBLE, Secretary."

They are Registering.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—"The Chinese are at last beginning to register," says General McClellan, the registration officer. "We are now receiving about ten applications daily, and I am informed by the Chinese that the number will be increased rapidly. Many merchants who are not required to register are doing so to avoid the annoyance of an investigation later."

NEARLY A TRAGEDY.

Didn't Want a Chinese Cook Who Could Shoot.

As showing what serious catastrophes come sometimes from the most insignificant—not to say ridiculous—causes the following amusing incident which occurred last summer in a certain county of this State is recorded:

A prominent rancher who has from beyond the seas wanted to engage a Chinese cook and applied to a house Celestial who undertakes to furnish help of that nationality. The rancher, who had plainly been patronizing the salacious a great deal too freely, succeeded in making his wants known to the Chinaman, and the latter, in answer, stated that he had several hands looking for a job, and would send one of them down to him, adding: "Send him back if he no suites you."

"Shoot me!" roared the rancher. "I dont want any d—d Chinaman to shoot me!" and he forthwith began to fumble with his hand in that region where the American citizen keeps his artillery.

"You no suites me," hurriedly put in the Chinaman, anxious to explain. "I no say shoots you at all. I say if he no suites you."

"Shoot me," abruptly again broke in the rancher with a noise that sounded like the report of a gun, for the explanation seemed only to add fuel to the fire of his anger, and, brandishing an ugly looking weapon, declared that he would wipe out every pigtail in the country.

The Chinaman, now thoroughly alarmed and with his pigtail erected like the caudal appendage of an angry scorpion, rushed excitedly over to where a gentleman stood, and, telling what had happened, implored him to come and explain to the furious rancher what he meant.

That gentleman, taking in the situation at a glance, cautiously approached the personification of a swaying Chinaman, who was evidently not at all pleased with the report of a gun, for the explanation seemed only to add fuel to the fire of his anger, and, brandishing an ugly looking weapon, declared that he would wipe out every pigtail in the country.

"A French naturalist has stated that an insect which attacks hop vines can produce 6,000,000 young ones during the month or six weeks of its existence."

But to be forewarned is to be forearmed.

THE OFFICE BOY ON BIRDS.

Birds is queer animals with 2 sides to em—inside and Outside.

The inside of a bird is for worms &amp; the outside is for whiskers which is called feathers.

Birds inside is composed of life and meat &amp; wishbones but drumsticks grow on a bird's hot leg, a chick's liver aint a popes nose, but I like lots of stuffing and stewed chickin' is too jwy but a quail on toste is not a bird, o No it is a dollar.

&amp; if a girl brakes off the long end of your wishbones and puts it over the door she's going to marry somebody but a bird's gizzard has got stones in it.

Birds comes in eggs which is marble and do re notes and billiard balls with soft towards which is maid of yelo custard &amp; Mewasalas, the littl small birds lives in nest till he gets big abuff to shell out and then the mewasalas makes his whiskers git stuck on him and then he is hatched and Hast to scratch gravul.

a chinaman had in like a bad eg upside down but a fishes egg comes in rows and is shad rose but if you stomach was full of eg-nog you couldn't git Drownded for your head would swim.

but i gots not no nose but They smell all the sum.

A Elafant dont lay no eggs &amp; a eg cant fl till it grows to a bird. But a loco is a g plant.

The Reno Creamery.

In another column will be found the new ad. of the Reno Creamery. The plan of delivering milk in bottles, as adopted by this creamery, is the neatest contrivance of the age. Not only is it a success in the way of making it much easier to handle the milk, but the milk itself will retain its sweetness for a much longer time. The butter furnished by this creamery has a reputation second to none, and is guaranteed to be the best made in the country.

The price is fifty cents per roll. Milk is delivered daily to any part of the city and butter will be furnished on Tuesdays and Saturdays.

A Suggestion.

A bill is being prepared by a generous legislator proposing the annexation of Nevada to Washoe county.—Carson News.

We would like to offer an amendment.

Why does not the legislator prepare a bill uniting the State in two equal parts, one to be called Ormsby and the other Washoe.

Divide the public institutions between them. Have two Capitols, one at Reno, the other at Carson and alternate between the two. Of course, we outsiders would not object and if we did it would make no difference as long as Reno and Carson were pleased.—Hawthorne Bulletin.

A Chinese rancher gave a big dinner to the elite of Washoe and vicinity last week. It was grand affair, being highly enjoyed by everybody, especially the school children.

McManus, J. McDonald and F. Johnson, three miners working in the Mount Diablo mine at Clarendon, were severely burned about the face by an explosion of giant powder caps in the mine Friday night. McDonald and Johnson went to Carson for medical treatment.

There has been a greater amount of sickness in Hawthorne during the last fortnight than at any time in the last two years. Among those sick are Mrs. Summerville and her children, the McBride children, Eddie Knapp and Sam Roland, who have been confined to their beds.
